

DR. C. F. WILCOX PURGES HIMSELF

Charges Made Against Him Had Little Foundation.

IS PROMISED AN ASSISTANT

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL AND AMBULANCE NEEDED.

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox, the health commissioner, appeared before two city council committees last night and defended himself against various attacks which had been made against him relative to the performance of his duties. He served notice upon the sanitary committee that as long as he was the head of the board of health he would not permit W. G. Margate, former chief sanitary inspector, to have a position in his office. Dr. Wilcox said he had discharged him for incompetency.

Referring to the accusations that he had been derelict in his duties upon several occasions in not attending emergency city cases, Dr. Wilcox made explanations which were satisfactory to the members of the police and prison committee. The discussion brought out the fact that the city needs an assistant city physician, or emergency doctor, and one has been promised the commission. The matter of the emergency hospital and ambulance was discussed, and the doctor was given to understand that it would receive immediate consideration from the council. The assistant city physician is to receive $600 per year, and he and Dr. Wilcox are to attend to every legitimate city case. Should the occasion arise when neither of them could respond to a call, they are to pay the bill that the attending physician may present.

Was Notified Too Late.

Dr. Wilcox said he knew nothing about the William Ford case until after the man had been taken care of by Dr. Benedict. He was not in his office when the case was reported. When his brother was reached he made an effort to attend the case, but he had received a shock and fallen from a pole, but found that two physicians who had been located previously had been notified. The commissioner denied the statement that he had visited the isolation hospital but once since he was appointed. He added that the services are not required there as much as many people think, owing to the efficiency of the nurse he has employed. Speaking of the hospital, Dr. Wilcox said that during the past three months he had had eight cases of that disease, and that other physicians had made his work doubly hard by refusing to diagnose smallpox cases, but reporting them as measles to him, and making him visit the case and order the patient to the hospital, instead of taking the responsibility upon their own shoulders and acting. He said other doctors even go so far as to force him to run down the source of the disease and place other affected families in quarantine.

Attacked by a Bull Dog.

When asked to explain why he did not attend the man at the station Saturday night, who was supposed to be bleeding to death from the back of the neck, Dr. Wilcox said that he was in no physical condition to do so, and that he could not get to the station because he was out on a case and could not be found.

Dr. Wilcox then explained to the committee the necessity of an emergency hospital being up at the police station, the need of an ambulance and an assistant to take cases when he could not personally respond. He said that with an assistant at $500 a year, he would guarantee to attend to every reasonable city case, or pay for the attendance of another physician on occasions when it would be impossible for either he or his assistant to respond. Such incidents, he said, could be very few.

Bribery Charge Disproven.

Answering the charge that one of his inspectors had accepted a bribe of $25 to keep a man from going to the isolation hospital, who was suffering with smallpox, Dr. Wilcox said the man had employed a private physician who agreed to treat him for $15. When Dr. Wilcox's attention was called to the hospital, where the man was, he demanded his $15 back from his own physician. The latter charged for two visits, $5, and refused the man $10, refusing to give back the $15. The man's claim that he had received but one visit.

After being discharged from the hospital the man called at the board of health office and became so profane in abusing Inspector Fowler that it was necessary to have him arrested. The next day the man apologized and the case was dropped.

During the adjourned session of the council the municipal laws committee reported on the petition of President Joseph P. Smith, et al., was adopted. It provides for a refunding to South Temple street property owners something over $14,000 paid into the city treasury over and above the actual cost of paving the street. Less the amount deducted from the City Street Improvement company's contract price for failure to complete their work within schedule time.

The claims committee reported adversely on the bill of Christopher Little for $250 for his dog. The dog catcher got his fine animal and killed it, mistaking it for another dog belonging next door which had been complained against.

An ordinance was passed defining a stock broker and fixing the license at $25 per year. Under the old ordinance a broker who gave an order to a regular broker to buy stock was subject to the license.

To the sprinkling committee was referred a resolution by President Hewitt giving sprinkling cart drivers who live a long distance from the city yard permission to take their carts home at night with them to obviate the necessity on their part of riding two or three miles to the yard to get their carts when they begin work in the morning and riding home again at night after turning their carts into the yard at 5 o'clock.

STRIKE IN SIOUX-AXAX.

Copper Ore is Said to Have Been Encountered.

Arrivals from Tintic last night brought the report of a big strike in the Sioux-Axax tunnel.

It was stated that a rich strike of copper ore resembling in character that from the Centennial-Eureka, had been encountered during the day.

Don't Miss It.

The entertainment at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. The boys will sing, speak, etc. Encourage the boys by your presence.

Do not overlook big embroidery sale at Walker's this week.

VALUABLE DOGS ARE POISONED; SAMUEL NEWHOUSE OFFERS REWARD

Charges Made Against Him Had Little Foundation.

IS PROMISED AN ASSISTANT

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL AND AMBULANCE NEEDED.

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox, the health commissioner, appeared before two city council committees last night and defended himself against various attacks which had been made against him relative to the performance of his duties. He served notice upon the sanitary committee that as long as he was the head of the board of health he would not permit W. G. Margate, former chief sanitary inspector, to have a position in his office. Dr. Wilcox said he had discharged him for incompetency.

Referring to the accusations that he had been derelict in his duties upon several occasions in not attending emergency city cases, Dr. Wilcox made explanations which were satisfactory to the members of the police and prison committee. The discussion brought out the fact that the city needs an assistant city physician, or emergency doctor, and one has been promised the commission. The matter of the emergency hospital and ambulance was discussed, and the doctor was given to understand that it would receive immediate consideration from the council. The assistant city physician is to receive $600 per year, and he and Dr. Wilcox are to attend to every legitimate city case. Should the occasion arise when neither of them could respond to a call, they are to pay the bill that the attending physician may present.

Was Notified Too Late.

Dr. Wilcox said he knew nothing about the William Ford case until after the man had been taken care of by Dr. Benedict. He was not in his office when the case was reported. When his brother was reached he made an effort to attend the case, but he had received a shock and fallen from a pole, but found that two physicians who had been located previously had been notified. The commissioner denied the statement that he had visited the isolation hospital but once since he was appointed. He added that the services are not required there as much as many people think, owing to the efficiency of the nurse he has employed. Speaking of the hospital, Dr. Wilcox said that during the past three months he had had eight cases of that disease, and that other physicians had made his work doubly hard by refusing to diagnose smallpox cases, but reporting them as measles to him, and making him visit the case and order the patient to the hospital, instead of taking the responsibility upon their own shoulders and acting. He said other doctors even go so far as to force him to run down the source of the disease and place other affected families in quarantine.

Attacked by a Bull Dog.

When asked to explain why he did not attend the man at the station Saturday night, who was supposed to be bleeding to death from the back of the neck, Dr. Wilcox said that he was in no physical condition to do so, and that he could not get to the station because he was out on a case and could not be found.

Dr. Wilcox then explained to the committee the necessity of an emergency hospital being up at the police station, the need of an ambulance and an assistant to take cases when he could not personally respond. He said that with an assistant at $500 a year, he would guarantee to attend to every reasonable city case, or pay for the attendance of another physician on occasions when it would be impossible for either he or his assistant to respond. Such incidents, he said, could be very few.

Bribery Charge Disproven.

Answering the charge that one of his inspectors had accepted a bribe of $25 to keep a man from going to the isolation hospital, who was suffering with smallpox, Dr. Wilcox said the man had employed a private physician who agreed to treat him for $15. When Dr. Wilcox's attention was called to the hospital, where the man was, he demanded his $15 back from his own physician. The latter charged for two visits, $5, and refused the man $10, refusing to give back the $15. The man's claim that he had received but one visit.

After being discharged from the hospital the man called at the board of health office and became so profane in abusing Inspector Fowler that it was necessary to have him arrested. The next day the man apologized and the case was dropped.

During the adjourned session of the council the municipal laws committee reported on the petition of President Joseph P. Smith, et al., was adopted. It provides for a refunding to South Temple street property owners something over $14,000 paid into the city treasury over and above the actual cost of paving the street. Less the amount deducted from the City Street Improvement company's contract price for failure to complete their work within schedule time.

The claims committee reported adversely on the bill of Christopher Little for $250 for his dog. The dog catcher got his fine animal and killed it, mistaking it for another dog belonging next door which had been complained against.

An ordinance was passed defining a stock broker and fixing the license at $25 per year. Under the old ordinance a broker who gave an order to a regular broker to buy stock was subject to the license.

To the sprinkling committee was referred a resolution by President Hewitt giving sprinkling cart drivers who live a long distance from the city yard permission to take their carts home at night with them to obviate the necessity on their part of riding two or three miles to the yard to get their carts when they begin work in the morning and riding home again at night after turning their carts into the yard at 5 o'clock.

STRIKE IN SIOUX-AXAX.

Copper Ore is Said to Have Been Encountered.

Arrivals from Tintic last night brought the report of a big strike in the Sioux-Axax tunnel.

It was stated that a rich strike of copper ore resembling in character that from the Centennial-Eureka, had been encountered during the day.

Don't Miss It.

The entertainment at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. The boys will sing, speak, etc. Encourage the boys by your presence.

Do not overlook big embroidery sale at Walker's this week.

AWFUL EFFECT OF NAVAL GUN FIRE

Charges Made Against Him Had Little Foundation.

IS PROMISED AN ASSISTANT

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL AND AMBULANCE NEEDED.

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox, the health commissioner, appeared before two city council committees last night and defended himself against various attacks which had been made against him relative to the performance of his duties. He served notice upon the sanitary committee that as long as he was the head of the board of health he would not permit W. G. Margate, former chief sanitary inspector, to have a position in his office. Dr. Wilcox said he had discharged him for incompetency.

Referring to the accusations that he had been derelict in his duties upon several occasions in not attending emergency city cases, Dr. Wilcox made explanations which were satisfactory to the members of the police and prison committee. The discussion brought out the fact that the city needs an assistant city physician, or emergency doctor, and one has been promised the commission. The matter of the emergency hospital and ambulance was discussed, and the doctor was given to understand that it would receive immediate consideration from the council. The assistant city physician is to receive $600 per year, and he and Dr. Wilcox are to attend to every legitimate city case. Should the occasion arise when neither of them could respond to a call, they are to pay the bill that the attending physician may present.

Was Notified Too Late.

Dr. Wilcox said he knew nothing about the William Ford case until after the man had been taken care of by Dr. Benedict. He was not in his office when the case was reported. When his brother was reached he made an effort to attend the case, but he had received a shock and fallen from a pole, but found that two physicians who had been located previously had been notified. The commissioner denied the statement that he had visited the isolation hospital but once since he was appointed. He added that the services are not required there as much as many people think, owing to the efficiency of the nurse he has employed. Speaking of the hospital, Dr. Wilcox said that during the past three months he had had eight cases of that disease, and that other physicians had made his work doubly hard by refusing to diagnose smallpox cases, but reporting them as measles to him, and making him visit the case and order the patient to the hospital, instead of taking the responsibility upon their own shoulders and acting. He said other doctors even go so far as to force him to run down the source of the disease and place other affected families in quarantine.

Attacked by a Bull Dog.

When asked to explain why he did not attend the man at the station Saturday night, who was supposed to be bleeding to death from the back of the neck, Dr. Wilcox said that he was in no physical condition to do so, and that he could not get to the station because he was out on a case and could not be found.

Dr. Wilcox then explained to the committee the necessity of an emergency hospital being up at the police station, the need of an ambulance and an assistant to take cases when he could not personally respond. He said that with an assistant at $500 a year, he would guarantee to attend to every reasonable city case, or pay for the attendance of another physician on occasions when it would be impossible for either he or his assistant to respond. Such incidents, he said, could be very few.

Bribery Charge Disproven.

Answering the charge that one of his inspectors had accepted a bribe of $25 to keep a man from going to the isolation hospital, who was suffering with smallpox, Dr. Wilcox said the man had employed a private physician who agreed to treat him for $15. When Dr. Wilcox's attention was called to the hospital, where the man was, he demanded his $15 back from his own physician. The latter charged for two visits, $5, and refused the man $10, refusing to give back the $15. The man's claim that he had received but one visit.

After being discharged from the hospital the man called at the board of health office and became so profane in abusing Inspector Fowler that it was necessary to have him arrested. The next day the man apologized and the case was dropped.

During the adjourned session of the council the municipal laws committee reported on the petition of President Joseph P. Smith, et al., was adopted. It provides for a refunding to South Temple street property owners something over $14,000 paid into the city treasury over and above the actual cost of paving the street. Less the amount deducted from the City Street Improvement company's contract price for failure to complete their work within schedule time.

The claims committee reported adversely on the bill of Christopher Little for $250 for his dog. The dog catcher got his fine animal and killed it, mistaking it for another dog belonging next door which had been complained against.

An ordinance was passed defining a stock broker and fixing the license at $25 per year. Under the old ordinance a broker who gave an order to a regular broker to buy stock was subject to the license.

To the sprinkling committee was referred a resolution by President Hewitt giving sprinkling cart drivers who live a long distance from the city yard permission to take their carts home at night with them to obviate the necessity on their part of riding two or three miles to the yard to get their carts when they begin work in the morning and riding home again at night after turning their carts into the yard at 5 o'clock.

STRIKE IN SIOUX-AXAX.

Copper Ore is Said to Have Been Encountered.

Arrivals from Tintic last night brought the report of a big strike in the Sioux-Axax tunnel.

It was stated that a rich strike of copper ore resembling in character that from the Centennial-Eureka, had been encountered during the day.

Don't Miss It.

The entertainment at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. The boys will sing, speak, etc. Encourage the boys by your presence.

Do not overlook big embroidery sale at Walker's this week.

DEATH OF DETECTIVE.

Charges Made Against Him Had Little Foundation.

IS PROMISED AN ASSISTANT

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL AND AMBULANCE NEEDED.

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox, the health commissioner, appeared before two city council committees last night and defended himself against various attacks which had been made against him relative to the performance of his duties. He served notice upon the sanitary committee that as long as he was the head of the board of health he would not permit W. G. Margate, former chief sanitary inspector, to have a position in his office. Dr. Wilcox said he had discharged him for incompetency.

Referring to the accusations that he had been derelict in his duties upon several occasions in not attending emergency city cases, Dr. Wilcox made explanations which were satisfactory to the members of the police and prison committee. The discussion brought out the fact that the city needs an assistant city physician, or emergency doctor, and one has been promised the commission. The matter of the emergency hospital and ambulance was discussed, and the doctor was given to understand that it would receive immediate consideration from the council. The assistant city physician is to receive $600 per year, and he and Dr. Wilcox are to attend to every legitimate city case. Should the occasion arise when neither of them could respond to a call, they are to pay the bill that the attending physician may present.

Was Notified Too Late.

Dr. Wilcox said he knew nothing about the William Ford case until after the man had been taken care of by Dr. Benedict. He was not in his office when the case was reported. When his brother was reached he made an effort to attend the case, but he had received a shock and fallen from a pole, but found that two physicians who had been located previously had been notified. The commissioner denied the statement that he had visited the isolation hospital but once since he was appointed. He added that the services are not required there as much as many people think, owing to the efficiency of the nurse he has employed. Speaking of the hospital, Dr. Wilcox said that during the past three months he had had eight cases of that disease, and that other physicians had made his work doubly hard by refusing to diagnose smallpox cases, but reporting them as measles to him, and making him visit the case and order the patient to the hospital, instead of taking the responsibility upon their own shoulders and acting. He said other doctors even go so far as to force him to run down the source of the disease and place other affected families in quarantine.

Attacked by a Bull Dog.

When asked to explain why he did not attend the man at the station Saturday night, who was supposed to be bleeding to death from the back of the neck, Dr. Wilcox said that he was in no physical condition to do so, and that he could not get to the station because he was out on a case and could not be found.

Dr. Wilcox then explained to the committee the necessity of an emergency hospital being up at the police station, the need of an ambulance and an assistant to take cases when he could not personally respond. He said that with an assistant at $500 a year, he would guarantee to attend to every reasonable city case, or pay for the attendance of another physician on occasions when it would be impossible for either he or his assistant to respond. Such incidents, he said, could be very few.

Bribery Charge Disproven.

Answering the charge that one of his inspectors had accepted a bribe of $25 to keep a man from going to the isolation hospital, who was suffering with smallpox, Dr. Wilcox said the man had employed a private physician who agreed to treat him for $15. When Dr. Wilcox's attention was called to the hospital, where the man was, he demanded his $15 back from his own physician. The latter charged for two visits, $5, and refused the man $10, refusing to give back the $15. The man's claim that he had received but one visit.

After being discharged from the hospital the man called at the board of health office and became so profane in abusing Inspector Fowler that it was necessary to have him arrested. The next day the man apologized and the case was dropped.

During the adjourned session of the council the municipal laws committee reported on the petition of President Joseph P. Smith, et al., was adopted. It provides for a refunding to South Temple street property owners something over $14,000 paid into the city treasury over and above the actual cost of paving the street. Less the amount deducted from the City Street Improvement company's contract price for failure to complete their work within schedule time.

The claims committee reported adversely on the bill of Christopher Little for $250 for his dog. The dog catcher got his fine animal and killed it, mistaking it for another dog belonging next door which had been complained against.

An ordinance was passed defining a stock broker and fixing the license at $25 per year. Under the old ordinance a broker who gave an order to a regular broker to buy stock was subject to the license.

To the sprinkling committee was referred a resolution by President Hewitt giving sprinkling cart drivers who live a long distance from the city yard permission to take their carts home at night with them to obviate the necessity on their part of riding two or three miles to the yard to get their carts when they begin work in the morning and riding home again at night after turning their carts into the yard at 5 o'clock.

STRIKE IN SIOUX-AXAX.

Copper Ore is Said to Have Been Encountered.

Arrivals from Tintic last night brought the report of a big strike in the Sioux-Axax tunnel.

It was stated that a rich strike of copper ore resembling in character that from the Centennial-Eureka, had been encountered during the day.

Don't Miss It.

The entertainment at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. The boys will sing, speak, etc. Encourage the boys by your presence.

Do not overlook big embroidery sale at Walker's this week.

Time Table

Charges Made Against Him Had Little Foundation.

IS PROMISED AN ASSISTANT

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL AND AMBULANCE NEEDED.

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox, the health commissioner, appeared before two city council committees last night and defended himself against various attacks which had been made against him relative to the performance of his duties. He served notice upon the sanitary committee that as long as he was the head of the board of health he would not permit W. G. Margate, former chief sanitary inspector, to have a position in his office. Dr. Wilcox said he had discharged him for incompetency.

Referring to the accusations that he had been derelict in his duties upon several occasions in not attending emergency city cases, Dr. Wilcox made explanations which were satisfactory to the members of the police and prison committee. The discussion brought out the fact that the city needs an assistant city physician, or emergency doctor, and one has been promised the commission. The matter of the emergency hospital and ambulance was discussed, and the doctor was given to understand that it would receive immediate consideration from the council. The assistant city physician is to receive $600 per year, and he and Dr. Wilcox are to attend to every legitimate city case. Should the occasion arise when neither of them could respond to a call, they are to pay the bill that the attending physician may present.

Was Notified Too Late.

Dr. Wilcox said he knew nothing about the William Ford case until after the man had been taken care of by Dr. Benedict. He was not in his office when the case was reported. When his brother was reached he made an effort to attend the case, but he had received a shock and fallen from a pole, but found that two physicians who had been located previously had been notified. The commissioner denied the statement that he had visited the isolation hospital but once since he was appointed. He added that the services are not required there as much as many people think, owing to the efficiency of the nurse he has employed. Speaking of the hospital, Dr. Wilcox said that during the past three months he had had eight cases of that disease, and that other physicians had made his work doubly hard by refusing to diagnose smallpox cases, but reporting them as measles to him, and making him visit the case and order the patient to the hospital, instead of taking the responsibility upon their own shoulders and acting. He said other doctors even go so far as to force him to run down the source of the disease and place other affected families in quarantine.

Attacked by a Bull Dog.

When asked to explain why he did not attend the man at the station Saturday night, who was supposed to be bleeding to death from the back of the neck, Dr. Wilcox said that he was in no physical condition to do so, and that he could not get to the station because he was out on a case and could not be found.

Dr. Wilcox then explained to the committee the necessity of an emergency hospital being up at the police station, the need of an ambulance and an assistant to take cases when he could not personally respond. He said that with an assistant at $500 a year, he would guarantee to attend to every reasonable city case, or pay for the attendance of another physician on occasions when it would be impossible for either he or his assistant to respond. Such incidents, he said, could be very few.

Bribery Charge Disproven.

Answering the charge that one of his inspectors had accepted a bribe of $25 to keep a man from going to the isolation hospital, who was suffering with smallpox, Dr. Wilcox said the man had employed a private physician who agreed to treat him for $15. When Dr. Wilcox's attention was called to the hospital, where the man was, he demanded his $15 back from his own physician. The latter charged for two visits, $5, and refused the man $10, refusing to give back the $15. The man's claim that he had received but one visit.

After being discharged from the hospital the man called at the board of health office and became so profane in abusing Inspector Fowler that it was necessary to have him arrested. The next day the man apologized and the case was dropped.

During the adjourned session of the council the municipal laws committee reported on the petition of President Joseph P. Smith, et al., was adopted. It provides for a refunding to South Temple street property owners something over $14,000 paid into the city treasury over and above the actual cost of paving the street. Less the amount deducted from the City Street Improvement company's contract price for failure to complete their work within schedule time.

The claims committee reported adversely on the bill of Christopher Little for $250 for his dog. The dog catcher got his fine animal and killed it, mistaking it for another dog belonging next door which had been complained against.

An ordinance was passed defining a stock broker and fixing the license at $25 per year. Under the old ordinance a broker who gave an order to a regular broker to buy stock was subject to the license.

To the sprinkling committee was referred a resolution by President Hewitt giving sprinkling cart drivers who live a long distance from the city yard permission to take their carts home at night with them to obviate the necessity on their part of riding two or three miles to the yard to get their carts when they begin work in the morning and riding home again at night after turning their carts into the yard at 5 o'clock.

STRIKE IN SIOUX-AXAX.

Copper Ore is Said to Have Been Encountered.

Arrivals from Tintic last night brought the report of a big strike in the Sioux-Axax tunnel.

It was stated that a rich strike of copper ore resembling in character that from the Centennial-Eureka, had been encountered during the day.

Don't Miss It.

The entertainment at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. The boys will sing, speak, etc. Encourage the boys by your presence.

Do not overlook big embroidery sale at Walker's this week.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Only 35¢ Your gray hair makes you look 20 years older. No need of this old age. Restore the color. Keep young.

MISSES' and CHILD'S SANDALS

Made in Patent and Viol Kid, one strap, with stylish bow over instep. Hand turn soles. Sizes 5 to 8. 85c

Sizes 9 to 11 95c

Sizes 12 to 14 $1.10

Paris MONEY BACK SANDS

338 and 340 Main St. Phone 695

STEAMSHIPS

COMPAGNIE GENERALE

TRANSATLANTIQUE

French Line, New York to Paris, Six Days

Sailings Every Thursday at 10 a. m.

La Touraine, June 21, La Champagne, June 28

La Gascogne, June 18, La Lorraine, July 1

La Savoie, June 25, La Bretagne, July 2

La Normandie, June 30, La Belgique, July 7

La Hollande, July 14, La Prusse, July 21

La Danemark, July 28, La Suède, Aug. 4

La Norvège, Aug. 11, La Russie, Aug. 18

La Pologne, Aug. 25, La Bohême, Sept. 1

La Hongrie, Sept. 8, La Serbie, Sept. 15

La Roumanie, Sept. 22, La Grèce, Sept. 29

La Turquie, Oct. 6, La Egypte, Oct. 13

La Syrie, Oct. 20, La Palestine, Oct. 27

La Libye, Nov. 3, La Tunisie, Nov. 10

La Maroc, Nov. 17, La Algérie